MYSTERY OVER PARKING PRANK

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@indienews.co.uk

MYSTERY surrounds who is responsible for a prank involving the parking meters along Seaton seafront.

Early on Friday morning (January 14th), all the parking meters along the Esplanade were covered over and a poster attached to them read: "Not in use. Surplus to requirements by order of the democratic citizens of Seaton."

The proposal to introduce parking charges along this stretch of road in Seaton has caused uproar in the seaside town. Residents and business leaders say the parking charges will drive people away from Seaton and into neighbouring towns where on-street parking charges don't exist.

Mayor of Seaton Bob Palacio said he was aware of the incident.

He said: "I have been assured that it was a prank. Apparently they were covered early in the morning. I don't know anything more about it though."

James Semple, chairman of the Seaton Development Trust, claimed he didn't know who was responsible for the prank. He said: "It is very amusing but Seaton Development Trust wouldn't do that sort of thing."

"When you have a position in the town you have to stick to the letter of the law and I see this as obstructing a legal act that has been put in place in Seaton. It may not necessarily be the right legal act but I cannot say that I agree with this action."

Eileen French, who lives along the seafront, was out walking her dog when she noticed the parking meters had been covered.

Speaking to this newspaper she said: "Every meter has been covered. It is funny really and I expect the wrapping will be taken off fairly quickly."

"Covering the meters up is a very good idea and is something that I agree with. The parking meters are spoiling Seaton and it is awful for the town."

A spokesman for Devon County Council was unavailable for comment as this newspaper went to press.

Rural beat's crime down

CRIME across the Seaton rural beat has fallen by almost 30 per cent in 2010, compared with figures for 2009.

According to statistics released by police, July was the quietest month with only five offences recorded and August was the busiest month with a total of 25 crimes.

Across the beat, a total of 135 crimes were reported in 2010. In 2009 193 crimes were reported.

Colyton was the scene of 62 offences, 38 incidents took place in Beer and 15 were recorded in Branscombe.

Only two offences were reported in Southleigh and residents in Northleigh enjoyed a crime free 2010.

PC Steve Speariett, neighbourhood beat manager for the Seaton rural patch, said: "We believe that the neighbourhood beat team, police officers and staff are forging strong community links, working with partner agencies, engaging with the youth and taking positive action against offenders has in a large part, led to the reduction in crime."

"There have been a number of successes including the police cadets, community speed watch, the Axe Harbour boat cover initiative, farm alarm and property marking."

"2011 will be a challenging year with financial cuts in the public sector but the neighbourhood team, officers and staff at Seaton Police Station will endeavour to provide the best possible service to you, the community we serve."

"The team would like to thank the community for their support and we wish you all a happy and peaceful new year."

Trailer taken

A BATESON livestock trailer, measuring approximately 12' x 5'6", has been stolen from a farm in the Beer area.

The trailer is described by police as aluminium-covered with a distinctive, integral roof rack.

It was stolen on Wednesday, January 5th at about 11.45pm and a police spokesperson said: "A light-coloured 4x4 vehicle with distinctive front spotlights, that appear as blue rings when not in use, is thought to be involved."

Anyone with information is asked to call 08452 777 444 and ask for PC Harper at Seaton Police Station. The crime reference number is KN/11/6.

Locals' anger over parking meter row

By BEN MIDDLETON
ben@findlenews.co.uk

A WRANGLE over parking meters has hit the streets of Seaton.

Parking meters were installed in Seaton last year and Devon County Council (DCC) had planned to install meters in other east Devon towns, including Honiton, later this year.

However, that plan has now been put on hold and this has angered some residents in Seaton.

In a letter to DCC officials James Semple, chairman of the Seaton Development Trust, said: "I wish to protest in the strongest terms about the decision of DCC to retain the parking meters in Seaton while cancelling them for surrounding towns."

"Our neighbours have hailed this decision as a positive step for their trade and tourism, but this will be at the cost of drawing these away from Seaton. We opposed meters here at the time, but consoled ourselves with their imminent installation in surrounding towns, so that we were all in the same boat. Now even this consolation is denied to us."

"If you live in east Devon and fancy a spin to the seaside, or for coffee, or to browse around the shops, why would you choose Seaton at 60pence an hour when surrounding towns cost nothing?"

"This is just another example of gross anti-Seaton bias in the county

Another member of Seaton Development Trust, Hugh Barlow, added: "I welcome the decision to cancel the proposal to install parking meters in Devon resorts. But I am doubly concerned and bewildered by the intention to leave them in operation just in Seaton — simply because they have already been installed here. They do not have to be removed, only mothballed."

"I have enjoyed conversations in seafont cafés with many visitors to Seaton and many return because they like the place. They will now be faced with a double disincentive to stop in Seaton."

"Firstly, they will be charged for stopping in Seaton when they were not charged before and, secondly, they can park without charge in any of the neighbouring towns."

A spokesman for DCC said: "A full public exhibition was held in Seaton before on-street pay and display was introduced on the Esplanade in the summer. Its introduction has enabled the number of parking spaces and disabled parking bays along the seafont to be increased and the Esplanade has also been made one way."

"Residents' parking zones are also being considered. We have made a commitment to go back to the town after 12 months to review how pay and display is working and whether any further traffic management can be introduced."

Ex-soldier is now on beat

A FORMER soldier has been appointed as the new neighbourhood beat manager for Seaton.

PC Daz Norton joined the ranks in 2000 after serving in The 3rd Battalion the Parachute Regiment.

Since joining the police he has served as a patrol officer in Totnes, Torquay, Paignton, Newton Abbot and Ashburton. He transferred to east Devon last summer where he served in Honiton and Seaton before taking up the post of neighbourhood beat manager in the town.

PC Norton said: "My aim is to meet more of the community over the coming weeks so that they can speak to me about policing in their area."

He has already been conducting regular foot patrols with PCSO Chris Bolsover and has met representatives and children from Seaton Primary School.

Call for old horse trailers

FOUR specialist crews at Devon and Somerset Fire and Rescue Service would gratefully receive old horse trailers and other equipment for training purposes.

The crews are undergoing training to deal with incidents involving trapped animals

A fire service spokesperson said: "The service desperately needs an old horse trailer or two.

"It does not have to be fully intact, roadworthy or pretty to look at — and they [the trainers] will collect it from you and put it to exceptionally good use.

"The trainers are also looking for old tack — bridles, saddles etcetera to assist in the training scenarios.

"The condition is unimportant as their 16-hand stallion is made of plastic and is rarely ridden."

Anyone able to help is asked to call 01392 872259.

Be on guard on the phone

POLICE are asking people to be on their guard if asked about certain details over the phone.

The advice was issued after an elderly lady in Stockland reported that she had been called by a well-spoken lady who requested information about personal circumstances for no apparent reason.

A police spokesperson said: "We would like to remind residents not to give any of their details out to anyone across the phone who rings them."

Anyone who has received a similar call is asked to call police on 08452 777 444.

THE home belonging to an Ottery St Mary family is set to undergo a makeover thanks to the BBC.

Since 2009 Ian and Morny Wright, of Slade Road, had been planning to transform their bungalow and create extra rooms for their three young boys.

However, a run of bad luck has hampered the project and now the BBC's 'DIY SOS: The Big Build' has stepped in to help.

A spokesman for the BBC's DIY SOS said: "The Wrights started work on a small extension and loft conversion back in February 2009 but bad luck has severely hampered their progress.

"Dad Ian has had to take on all of the labour himself, with the occasional helping hand from his good friend John, as they don't have enough money to employ traders. Whilst all the work Ian has done is of an excellent standard, he just doesn't have the time or the experience to complete such a massive build. But still he soldiers on.

"Mum Morny suffers with chronic M.E and is unable to help with the build. On top of the build she has also had to nurse her mother through breast cancer and has suffered the death of her estranged father.

"Their youngest son Casper also has behavioural problems which has made life very difficult living in the shell of a small bungalow.

"We feel that they represent hard working families who take on ambitious projects with only the best intentions but for reasons beyond their control things don't work out as planned and they find themselves in dire straights."

Speaking to this newspaper Morny said: "I was absolutely stunned when we were told that DIY SOS

◆ THE Wright family home in Ottery St Mary is set to be transformed by the BBC's DIY SOS: The Big Build would be helping us out. I applied using their online website and then they got back to us asking for a bit more information.

"It had been a couple of months since we had heard anything and we really didn't know if we would hear from them again but then they got back to us and since then it has been unreal.

"At the moment all the boys are sharing one bedroom and they have no personal space, it has been hard for them but now DIY SOS is going to put it right.

"I don't really know what they [DIY SOS] are going to do but whatever they do I am sure it will make all our lives so much better."

Volunteers in the area are now being urged to come forward and help out on the nine-day build, which starts on St Valentine's Day (February 14th).

The BBC spokesman added: "With the help of the local community we're going to finish the build. This will give the boys the rooms they need for their personal development.

"Ian and Morny are integral members of their community and it is their dream to start a music club for children in the area.

"We are looking for volunteers to help with the nine day build between Monday, February 14th, and Tuesday, February 22nd. Volunteers are then invited back on Wednesday, February 23rd, to welcome the family home.

"We are interested in hearing from joiners, general builders, plasterers, roofers, window fitters and painter and decorators."

Anyone interested in helping on the project should call 01179 747563.

Crews attend school blaze

FIRE crews from Honiton and Cullompton were called to reports of a fire in the primary school building at Broadhembury.

The incident took place just before 5pm on Friday, January 14th.

The fire involved a strip light on a suspended ceiling.

Crews used one hose reel jet, a short extension ladder and thermal imaging camera to extinguish the flames.

Camera used to extinguish

A SMALL fire broke out in a wood burning stove at a property in Alfrington, Ottery St Mary, on Saturday, January 15th.

The incident took place at approximately 8.45pm and one fire crew from Honiton was despatched to the scene.

The crew used chimney gear and a thermal imaging camera to extinguish the fire.

Machine fire out on arrival

FIRE crews from Colyton and Seaton were called to a report of a fire involving a washing machine at a property at Seaway Head, Colyton.

The incident took place at approximately 10.20am on Thursday, January 13th.

The fire was out on arrival and crews made the area safe.

POLICE INVESTIGATE FAILED ARMED RAID

By BEN MIDDLETON

ben@tindlenews.co.uk

POLICE are continuing to investigate a failed armed raid in Honiton.

The incident took place on Sunday, January 9th, at approximately 7pm in the Rosemount Lane area of the town.

According to police reports armed intruders burst into the property equipped with what is believed to be handguns and a knife.

The incident left David Taylor and his wife Jenny needing hospital treatment. Their son Gary was also hospitalised with minor knife wounds.

A spokesman for Devon and Cornwall Police said: "At around 7pm on Sunday, January 9th, an aggravated burglary occurred at a house located near the town centre in Honiton when the occupants were confronted by two armed men. The two intruders were armed with what is believed to be handguns and a knife.

"It is believed the offenders fled from the scene empty handed when challenged by one of the occupants.

"Following the incident two of the residents, a man and a woman, were taken to hospital suffering from shock and minor injuries."

Police have since confirmed that David was released from hospital a short while after being admitted but Jenny had been detained for observations.

A force spokesman has also confirmed to this newspaper that descriptions of the offenders are limited.

He said: "Initial descriptions of the offenders are limited, but more details will be provided once established. Police are still waiting to get a full account from the victims who are a couple in their early 60s and a man in his mid 30s.

"At this time police are unable to provide a description of the suspects, other than they were two men."

DI Sally Crabtree is leading the investigation and said: "This is a protracted enquiry and it is still very early in the investigation. We would like to appeal to anyone who has information or saw something unusual around the time of the incident to contact us.

"Local police are making additional high visibility patrols in the area and there is nothing to suggest local residents should stop doing what they would normally do. This is thought to be an isolated incident which is very unusual for east Devon.

"I would urge local people to go about their normal daily business but remain vigilant and report anything unusual to us straight away."

In the latest update, police say they are keen to hear from anyone who saw a man running in the area at the time of the incident. Officers are treating the man as a potential witness.

Anyone with information about the incident is asked to contact police on 08452 777444 quoting police reference number 118 100111. Alternatively call Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Swire delight at privy seat

THE MP for East Devon Constituency, Hugo Swire, has been appointed as a Privy councillor.

Mr Swire's first Privy Council meeting is on Wednesday, February 9th and he said: "I'm absolutely delighted and honoured to become a privy councillor.

"My duties are largely formal, meeting to approve decisions that have been taken elsewhere and making appointments to offices of the Crown.

"But we can exercise executive, legal and legislative powers in certain circumstances."

Mr Swire has represented East Devon Constituency in Parliament since 2001 and is currently Minister of State for Northern Ireland.

A spokesperson for his office explained: "He will join 550 other members of Privy Council, which includes all cabinet members past and present, the leaders of all the main parties, the Speaker, archbishops, senior judges and some other important public figures."

Membership of the Privy Council is today a titular honour, with the office recognised as a reward for public and political service.

Appointments are made by the Sovereign on ministerial advice and are for life — and there is no fixed number of members.

Youngsters awarded with gold

By ANDERS LARSSON

anders@indlenews.co.uk

THE achievements of youngsters from across Pulman's Country have been celebrated in Exeter.

Devon County Council (DCC) hosted a Duke of Edinburgh (DofE) Gold Awards ceremony on Saturday, January 8th attended by winners from all over Devon.

Among those to win Gold Awards were Thomas Burton, Anna Elliott and Oliver Persey from Colyton Grammar School, Charlotte Hall and Adam Ward from Honiton Independents and Jake Dove from Kilmington Baptist Group.

The DofE is a personal development programme undertaken as part of leisure time activities.

It challenges young people between the ages of 14 and 25 to serve others, acquire new skills, experience adventure, and make new friends — young and old.

There are currently 4,500 young people taking part in this programme with DCC.

A DCC spokesperson explained: "Participants, regardless of their economic circumstances, ability or disability, are encouraged to develop existing interests or try something new."

"Whatever they choose to do for their programme, they can find enjoyment, excitement and satisfaction."

"The scheme is run under a licence held by Devon Youth Service and is delivered through more than 70 groups in Devon including schools, colleges, youth clubs and voluntary organisations."

"The scheme is not competitive, and anyone with the necessary perseverance, enterprise and effort can gain a DofE Award."

"Young people are encouraged to choose activities which suit their particular interest and talents, challenge their perceptions and which are appropriate to the environment in which they live."

As part of their comprehensive programmes, Thomas Burton did bushcraft, Oliver Persey studied human rights and Charlotte Hall did a week-long course in cell biology and genetics at Cambridge.

Adam Ward was a Devon Youth Parliament member and spoke in the House of Commons.

Jake Dove helped in a day centre for adults with learning disabilities and did a residential in the Scottish mountains.

The youngsters were presented with their awards by Sir John Cave, Vice Lord-Lieutenant of Devon.

The Gold Award can take a number of years to achieve, the average being around two.

Each participant has to cover five different areas of achievement — a volunteering project, skills, physical recreation, expedition and residential experience.

County councillor Christine Channon, Cabinet member for Schools and Skills, said prior to the event: "Congratulations to these remarkable young people for achieving this fantastic accolade."

"I am delighted that once again so many young people from across Devon have been involved in this superb scheme, having undertaken a wide and varied range of projects and expeditions to achieve this award."

"The scheme provides young people with a real breadth of skills — from volunteering to physical challenges, developing existing talents or trying something new, taking part in an expedition and undertaking a residential trip as part of a team."

"These are all skills that will provide them with invaluable assets towards further education, employment and training, as well as helping local communities, charities and voluntary groups."

MAKE A WILL AND POWER OF ATTORNEY AND HELP A CHARITY

Due to the ongoing success of previous campaigns, we are promoting Wills benefiting local charities.

During January and February 2011 we are offering to prepare your will at a discount from our normal fee. Typically a straightforward will will cost £150.00 and two "mirror wills" for couples will cost £195.00.

We will donate one half of that fee to a local charity from a selected list.

There is no obligation on you to leave a gift to a charity but you may wish to do so.

We will also make a discount of £50 against our normal fees if instructed to prepare a power of attorney for you.

ALEXANDER PAUL ANTIQUES DISCOVER MASSIVE TABLE IN RURAL FRANCE !!

What a great job I have!

It sounds wonderfully romantic to set off for France with a mission to "just buy lots of old antique tables". Its not always as easy as it sounds; treasure seekers have been scouring France for many years looking for those hidden gems and with each passing year it becomes harder and harder to find something special.

The secret is to have plenty of time available; time to leave no stone unturned and call on every little "brocante and meubles" shop there is, from Cherbourg to St Tropez. Sadly we do not have that much time but we certainly travel many hundreds of miles covering all of northern France as far south as a line drawn across from La Rochelle.

We have over the years developed a network of contacts who we have come to rely on, to save us the best tables; they in turn rely on our regular visits to move these gems on.....This arrangement also saves us a great deal of time and so we travel along buying the best tables when we see them, enjoying the experience and having faith that we will continue to find these beautiful antiques

Most of us are now familiar with the long distance toll roads in France, but we hanker after the roads and villages that time forgot and to visit there some of the dealers who hide away in these quiet backwaters of rural France playing boules in the village square. One particular fellow we call on doesn't speak any English at all; this always makes buying tables off him especially fun; he seems very up to date however with the price he charges us! We see many tables, both good and not so good, well cared for and rotten and wonderful as it is to buy the best of these tables (and it is) I am always on the look out for something extra special. As such it was with delight that I looked in the direction my old friend was pointing. At the back of his shed was a massive table over 9 foot long, 3 and 1/2 feet wide and the top made of 3 huge boards each nearly 2 inches thick! This was it! This is what I had come to France for; a really special table. It took four of us to load this onto the van; with lots of grunting and laughter. I could relax now.....I had found the jewel of this trip and could return home satisfied!

We currently have about 35 stunning French provincial dining tables available for sale on our web site together with a fantastic selection of coffee tables and serving tables. They all share in common, beautiful colour and a soft patination which comes with great age.

As for our massive table?

It's not yet restored but soon will be and as soon as it is, like all our other beautiful tables will appear on our website.

Five art pupils eventually get the cash boost

By ANDERS LARSSON

anders@tindlenews.co.uk

THE five students who couldn't be presented with their Axminster Arts sponsorship because of poor weather eventually got their money.

A presentation ceremony on December 20th was postponed but the cheques were instead handed over on Friday, January 7th.

Axminster Arts uses profits from the arts café each year to sponsor students who attended local schools before entering higher education to study one of the arts.

The five chosen for the 2010 payouts received £200 each (not £250 as previously announced) to pay for material and equipment needed for course work.

The students are:

- Robin Lane, who attended Holyrood School in Chard and is now studying film production at the London Metropolitan University
- Jodie Miller, who attended Axe Valley Community College and is now studying fashion design at Falmouth Art College
- Mia Shurey, who attended Colyton Grammar School and is now studying fine art at Somerset College

• Chloe Stratta, who attended Colyton Grammar School and is now studying music at Manchester University

• Taryn Taylor, who attended Colyton Grammar School and is now studying drama at the Oxford School of Drama.

Local sixth form students seeking to study one of the arts, starting in the autumn of 2011, can apply for this year's Young Persons' Award.

Application forms are available from the arts café or by emailing jennyfells@btinternet.com.

The closing date for application is August 1st 2011.

MEMBERS of The Woodroffe School's Environmental Action Team (EAT) had reason to celebrate after passing an assessment and holding on to their Eco-Schools green flag award.

Eco-Schools is an international award programme that "guides schools on their sustainable journey, providing a framework to help embed these principles into the heart of school life".

Since the last assessment, a new vegetable and herb garden has been set up to emphasise the use of local produce and to reduce the use of food miles.

Eco flag victory

EAT members have also continued to advocate responsible behaviour around the school to cut littering and energy use.

The Lyme Regis school has become a pilot school for the Low Carbon Schools initiative being run by Dorset County Council, and there are many other initiatives going on as well, including a car-sharing campaign for staff.

A school spokesperson said: "The assessor who visited the school was impressed with the students' enthusiasm and commitment to reduce the school's carbon footprint."

"The group's next move involves spreading their ideas to other local schools."

Clay pigeon shoot try-out

ANYONE wishing to try clay pigeon shooting can do so in Hawkchurch on Saturday, January 22nd.

Under the slogan of Guns 4 Good, a day-long clay pigeon shoot is to be held at Wyld Court, Hawkchurch, in aid of Help for Heroes.

The event will allow members of the public to try their hand at the sport under professional supervision.

Shooting will start at 10am and continue until 3pm.

All necessary equipment will be provided and light refreshments will be served during the day.

The range has a heated under cover shelter in case of bad weather and there will be a prize for the best shot.

Shooting tickets need to be pre-booked and cost £15 whilst spectator tickets are £2 for those who just want to watch.

Workshop for farmers on boundary funding

TRILL Farm, Musbury, will be the venue for a workshop aimed at east Devon farmers and land managers.

The workshop is organised by Natural England and will focus on boundary management techniques funding options.

Experienced advisers will be on hand on Tuesday, January 25th to outline the wide variety of different farm boundaries and the most appropriate management methods available such as traditional hedge laying.

They will answer individual queries and offer guidance to help farmers in Environmental Stewardship agreements ensure they meet the Rural Payments Agency inspection criteria.

Helen Merchant, Natural England project manager for farm advice in Devon and Cornwall, said: "The day will be a great opportunity for those currently in an Entry Level Stewardship (ELS) agreement and we aim to provide farmers with the skills and knowledge to manage their existing ELS boundary options.

"We are particularly keen to influence the selection of options of those who will be shortly renewing their agreements in order to maximise the benefits to wildlife habitat within the farm environment."

The session starts with registration at 1pm and will finish at 4.30pm.

As it will be conducted on site, attendees are advised to wear suitable clothing and footwear.

Tea, coffee and light refreshments will be provided. To book a place on the workshop, call 0780 190 2782 or email: fati@aeat.co.uk stating the date of the event in the title of the email as well as including names of those attending, full postal address, telephone number, farm size and type, and holding number.

Natural England is the government's independent advisor on the natural environment. Established in 2006 its work is focused on enhancing England's wildlife and landscapes and maximising the benefits they bring to the public.

Secondary schools get good marks

By BEN MIDDLETON

ben@findlenews.co.uk

SECONDARY schools across Pulman's Country have performed well according to the latest set of league tables, released on Wednesday, January 12th.

The tables show the GCSE and A-level results achieved by pupils who took the exams last summer.

New measures introduced by the coalition government mean 35 per cent of pupils taking GCSEs must score at least five A* to C grades including English and maths. Any schools falling below this mark will come under scrutiny to make sure they improve.

Just over 77 per cent of pupils at Axe Valley Community College, Axminster, gained five or more A* to C grades including English and maths.

A level students at the Axminster college also scored well, with an average points score per candidate of 604.1.

Colyton Grammar School was ranked among the top three schools in the country for GCSE results, with 100 per cent of pupils gaining five or more A* to C grades including English and maths.

For A levels, Colyton was in the top five schools nationally, with an average points score per candidate of 1298.6 - equivalent to more than four A* grades.

Paul Evans, headteacher at Colyton Grammar School, said: "I am proud that the efforts of our students have been recognised and these excellent results reflect both their hard work and the support of staff.

"Of course, there are many ways to judge a good school and I'm also proud of the range of community, leadership and extra-curricular activities such as sport and drama students have participated in."

Seventy one per cent of youngsters at Honiton Community College scored five or more A* to C in GCSE. A level students at Honiton achieved an average points score of 589.3.

In Ottery St Mary, 78 per cent of pupils at The King's School achieved five or more A* to C in GCSE and A level students had an average points score of 690.7.

A spokesman for Devon County Council said: "Secondary schools across Devon have continued to improve their performance at GCSE. Over the past five years the percentage of pupils gaining five or more GCSEs at A* to C grades, including English and maths, has gone up from 46 to 54.7.

"The county's overall percentage rose by 2.9 per cent from 51.8 per cent in 2009 to 54.7 per cent last year. Over three quarters of Devon's secondary schools improved their results in 2010 compared with 2009.

"This continued progression is despite Devon being one of the worst funded education authorities in the country."

In the editor's shoes

Written by

KATE WILLIAMS

Too much of a good thing

IT has been said that you can have too much of a good thing. I think perhaps this was the case on Saturday — although I am not entirely sure for which party.

I usually spend a chunk of my Saturdays working from home but last weekend my majority day was swapped to Sunday.

Instead of holed up in the office staring at a screen, edited news pages and writing headlines, I was out and about and preparing to do some decorating.

My job for Saturday was glossing interior doors. Sounds riveting, right? Think I'd rather be writing headlines.

My Lovely Farmer was sanding down and doing other 'man jobs' but, in order for us to begin our list of tasks set, we had to take a trip to Bradfords.

The builders' merchant in Axminster was our destination, we were well looked after and were soon driving away with what we wanted. Trouble is, it wasn't everything we wanted. We had forgotten something important.

So back we went and I was nominated as chief buyer, so I entered the shop for the second time that morning.

Of course, the staff obliged and off we went back home. As we returned, however, the thing we had forgotten and went back a second time for was not the right thing after all. In fact, it was the wrong thing at twice the price.

Voted in again as collection person (because my glossing obviously wasn't important enough), I wearily got back in the car for yet another visit to the merchant trader.

Dean and his team at Bradfords sorted the problem efficiently, as always, and even brought the correct thing up form the yard for me (very kind).

I was just thinking, is three trips to Bradfords on one Saturday morning (when they are only open between 8am and 12.30pm) too much?

As I was thinking this, Dean said: "I don't mean to be rude, Kate, but I hope I don't see you again today!"

The cheek! Too much of a good thing, I suspect. Although I'm sure I was the good thing in question.

■ I would like to say a massive congratulations to young Tim Rogers who is an up-and-coming event rider based in Axminster.

Tim has been selected — again — for the 2011-2013 World Development Programme — a UK Sport-funded project which helps and supports a small selection of talented riders maximise their potential.

It is also a gateway for the Olympics, choosing the country's best new riders with the potential to win future medals for GB. Tim impressed the selection judges yet again.

Tim works incredibly hard ensuring his horses are fit, healthy and well looked after as well as continually aspiring to better his riding skills and horses' abilities.

The attitude of this young man is refreshing and his care for the animals is exceptionally high.

Tim's family, who have an on-site yard at their Wyke home, give up a great deal of time so that they can support him in his quest and mum Jane works tirelessly to ensure things run as smoothly as they possibly can where horses are concerned.

This young rider is definitely one to watch for the future. We are lucky to have top GB event rider Mary King on our doorstep and we could have another on our patch too, ready to help bring ribbons back for our county and country. Watch this space.

Estate agents who go that extra mile

By ANDERS LARSSON

anders@findlenews.co.uk

STAFF at Chesterton Humberts' Honiton office have celebrated the company's overall success, which resulted in two awards.

The company, whose regional office is in Honiton, won Negotiator Magazine's National Estate Agency Chain of the Year award (11 plus offices).

In addition, the company also gained a silver gong awarded by The Sunday Times and Times (Best Large Estate Agency of the Year category).

Associate director Ian Lange said: "These two awards, coming from very prestigious media groups are a fantastic recognition of the work we all put in to create a successful business based on customer service and 'going that extra mile', as we realise that although we sell property, it is people that really matter. We have 70 offices nationally and internationally, with 26 offices in London alone, which gives us a fantastic overview, but we are firmly rooted in the local community and have sold more property for our clients here in east Devon than in any previous year."

AN Ottery St Mary shopkeeper is celebrating one year in business.

Martin Farrant, of Bay Tree Shoe Repairs, Mill Street, took over the business on February 1st 2010.

He says he has enjoyed his first year and is looking forward to expanding his services over the next 12 months.

Speaking to Pulman's View, Mr Farrant said: "I have had a very encouraging first year. My idea was to survive the first year and then start to turn a profit in the second year.

"In the first year I had a lot of things that I had to pay out for like the window display, signage, website, tools and materials and I won't have that in my second year so that should make things a little easier."

Services on offer at Bay Tree Shoe Repairs include shoe repairs, watch battery fitting and watch strap fitting, dry cleaning, key cutting and engraving and knife and scissor sharpening. Mr Farrant is also urging his customers to ask him if there are any other services that he could offer.

He said: "People can come in and offer any suggestions for services that I should be offering or opening times."

Mr Farrant said he is enjoying his work and has built up a great rapport with some of his customers.

Encouraging debut year

He said: "Hopefully I have built up a relationship with my customers and I would like to thank them for all their support and I look forward to serving them for many more years to come."

"The people in Ottery are really nice and I like being part of the community. It is nice getting to know people and it is nice for me when I can go that extra mile — you wouldn't get that if you went to a national chain.

"It is just nice to feel needed. I would also like to thank Colin and Theresa Daly for giving me the opportunity to take on the business."

Snow clearing mystery solved

EDITOR — In last week's (January 11th) edition of Pulman's View you published a letter entitled 'Thank you to good Samaritan for helping us out in the snow', but your correspondent was not able to identify the young man with tractor and bucket attachment, who cleared the snow from Sector Lane.

We too live along Sector Lane and can clear up the mystery. It is the Strawbridge family of Payne's Place Farm to whom our thanks are due.

Their public-spiritedness, at a time when council gritters and snowploughs were notable by their absence, is to be applauded and I know from talking to other residents that everyone is very appreciative of all their efforts.

It is no easy task navigating a heavy tractor up and down a narrow icy lane, but they worked systematically along the road, stopping traffic as necessary to ensure no danger to other road users, and worked for many many hours to make the road passable.

Thanks are deserved for our hard-working waste disposal team

EDITOR — Now that the recent snow has melted and we have reverted to the now traditional English winter rainy season I think it is time to recognise the efforts of the people who provide services we usually take for granted and who operated in exceptionally difficult circumstances to make sure our post was delivered and essentials such as deliveries of heating oil were maintained whenever possible.

I would, however, in addition particularly like to sing the praises of the waste disposal people who have since the thaw been putting in exceptionally long and anti-social hours to clear the backlog of rubbish and recycling that had built up and this task is now complete.

We are extraordinarily fortunate to have such a dedicated bunch of people working on our behalf, in particular when you have seen reports and pictures of the nightmare situation in places like Exeter and Birmingham where this has not been the case. Good on you.

Town wasn't given option to vote 'no'

EDITOR — Councillor Stuart Hughes of Devon County Council shows his extraordinary arrogance by continually insisting parking meters should stay in Seaton.

He claims people in the town wanted them.

What a joke! When I was a town councillor I remember DCC staff coming to a meeting and telling us in no uncertain terms that Seaton was going to get parking meters whether we liked it or not and there was nothing we could do to stop them.

They then proceeded to do a joke of a consultation which wasn't advertised so hardly anyone knew about it.

The questionnaire gave two options —

parking meters near the shops or on the sea front.

No option to pick to say we didn't want any.

Yet Mr Hughes is using this as his basis for not scrapping the meters.

Mr Hughes has even said that Seaton has been treated more fairly than other Devon towns regarding parking meters.

Does anyone reading the above agree?

Seatonians, please let your views be known to this sorry excuse of a politician.

We can't continue to let outside politicians dump on this town and ignore us.

Band play great event

EDITOR — AJ's Big Band has been in existence for over 26 years and has played hundreds of engagements across the westcountry and beyond.

At the end of 2010, the band was booked by Seaton's Voice for their New Year's Eve Ball at Seaton Town Hall.

We would like to record that this event was one of the best that we have had the pleasure of performing.

The organisers went to great lengths to get the format absolutely right and the hall itself was transformed into a welcoming venue with seasonal warmth.

Most importantly, Seaton's Voice effectively marketed the ball so there was a capacity attendance thus ensuring a great atmosphere throughout the evening.

Congratulations therefore to Seaton's Voice and good wishes for future activities at the town hall which, hopefully, will be as successful as this one.

*Gordon Bess
Manager, AJ's Big Band*

Full marks for outstanding effort

EDITOR — I wish to compliment the EDDC refuse collection team who arrived at our address in Seaton at the usual time of 9am on the revised day of Thursday, January 6th despite having one month's refuse to collect.

This is beyond expectations at a difficult time when criticism of collections has been in the limelight in recent weeks.

Full marks for an outstanding effort that sets a standard for others to achieve. Well done to everyone involved.

Boat builder tells all to WI

THE January meeting of Musbury and Whitford Women's Institute took place at Whitford Village Hall on Tuesday, January 11th.

The speaker was Gail McGarva, a boat builder based in Lyme Regis — the only lady to build wooden boats in the world.

She started out with a daughter boat, based on one in Unst, in the Shetlands, where it is becoming a dying trade.

Her mentor based in Unst, is named Willy, and all communication was done by phone and post.

He insisted that she get the second plank right, because if it wasn't the whole shape of the boat would be wrong.

Needless to say she got it right and went on to build a pilot gig boat for Lyme Regis.

The group has raised a tidy sum for the Women's Refuge, and members decided how it was to be spent.

The resolution voting slips were collected.

Members were named as to who will be completing the origins of foodstuffs survey and we were asked to think about who will be named as our local charity for this year.

There will be a Fairtrade coffee morning on March 2nd from 10am to 12noon in Musbury Village Hall's committee room.

The meeting, which had been very enjoyable, closed at 9.45pm.

The next one is on Tuesday, February 8th at 7.30pm in Whitford Village Hall, and is Fabric Fantasy to Fashion Fun.

Festival holds its 17th annual meet for 2010

THE annual meeting of the Axe Vale Festival took place at the Surgery, Church Street, Axminster on Wednesday 24th November 2010.

The chairman started the meeting by thanking all those present for coming to the 17th meeting.

The minutes of the 2009 annual meeting were approved.

He went on to say that the show had been successful but the attendance was down by 800 visitors.

This was partly due to the very hot weather and also the outcome of a World Cup match played by the Americans which, with the result, had succeeded in putting the England game on Sunday afternoon and not

Saturday evening.

This had kept many of the keen England fans at home, despite two televisions in the licensed bar.

The exhibitors present at the show were up, a total of 418 which had given a wide variety of goods for sale.

The chairman explained that the Axe Vale Festival had given donations of £126,000 to charities in Axminster and the surrounding areas since its conception and he felt that the founder David Swarbrick would have been extremely pleased with the results. The show had grown over the years and with it the committee.

He thanked the Burrough and Newberry families for allowing the festival to take place on their land.

Without this generous offer it would not take place.

He went on to thank the helpers and committee for all their hard work throughout the year.

Tom Stuckey a representative from the young farmers' thanked the chairman for all the help that is given to them from the festival committee with the young farmers' annual ball which takes place following the show.

Roy Winterburn, representing the Flamingo Pool, also thanked the festival for the money it had raised, which goes to help support the up keep of the pool.

Liz Stonex, treasurer, gave a synopsis of the financial report which was followed by the appointment of directors and officers.

Following the meeting a group photograph of representatives of the various charities with their cheques was taken.

Cheques were presented to: Flamingo Pool, Minster Church, girl guides Emma Tristram and Helen Bagwell, Axminster and District Choral Society, Axe Valley Life, Axminster Operatic Society, Axminster TIC, Millwey Rise Football Club St Michael's Church Shute, Flamingo Netball Team, Marvellous Amateur Dramatics (MAD), Axminster Horticultural Society, Cloakham Lawns Sports Centre, Axminster Chamber of Commerce.

Group learns new approach

MEMBERS of Lyme Regis Art Group spent a fascinating afternoon with one of our best-known and talented artists, Lynda White on November 16th.

Lynda is renowned for her innovative approach to the use of different media and her workshops and courses on the use of watercolour have played a vital part in encouraging and teaching local artists. She introduced us to a new technique — the use of coloured charcoal.

The inspiration for this demonstration had come from one of her courses where traditional charcoal is rubbed across a watercolour and then erased out to reveal areas of brightness.

Lynda first produced a beautifully delicate watercolour painting of blackberries with autumn leaves, using ultramarine and burnt sienna for the darkest tones, and cadmium yellow and red for the unripe berries.

She then rubbed swathes of the coloured charcoal right across the painting whilst keeping up a commentary on exactly which colours and techniques were being used.

After this draconian act, she produced a variety of erasers, including a battery driven one — surely the ultimate in labour-saving devices for artists.

She then carefully rubbed away areas of the charcoal to reveal the bright leaves and highlighted blackberries underneath.

Darker areas of the picture were emphasised with more charcoal, creating a more energetic and dramatic picture from the original very delicate watercolour.

Headteacher takes wider view for talk

ON the day when new league tables showed Colyton Grammar School to be the top co-ed state school in England, based on GCSE results in 2010, headteacher Mr Paul Evans chose to take a wider view.

Speaking to the Devonshire Association's Axe Valley branch, at its first Colyton Peace Memorial Pavilion meeting of the New Year, he emphasised the imperative that "we don't want to be an exam factory".

Mr Evans said that such results, which also placed his institution third of all English state schools, single sex or co-ed, made him proud of the hard work by his young people, and the staff who taught them.

Going back to the beginnings Mr Evans, a Devonian both of whose parents held office as Lord Mayor of Plymouth, blamed the creation of his school on King Henry VIII.

He chose to execute his cousin Henry Courtney, owner of much east Devon land in and around Colyton.

After which the ever loyal Feofees of the town were allowed to buy some of the Courtney land back and, as part of their charitable activities, started a school above the church porch.

The handsome school house next door was built in 1612.

There was some slight spread into surrounding buildings but by 1875 there were only six boys — each costing £4.45 a year compared with £4,232 now.

Closure followed from 1899 to 1905 before a re-opening brought in pupils from surrounding Axe Valley towns and villages.

The first two girls arrived in 1913 and by the 1920s there was a roll of 120, compared to 808 this year..

The present Colyford site was bought in 1925 and the newly built school opened on January 15th, 1929.

The school moved competently along for the next half century without creating waves outside its area but then some time in the 1980s head teacher Barry Sindall and his governors decided to aim higher.

At the next meeting on February 9th Pulman's View columnist Tony Jackson will speak on Big Cats, Beasts and Birds in east Devon.

Pulman's View from the churches

With NIGEL SPELLER

THIS is a Week of Prayer for Christian Unity.

Elizabeth Lynn said: "We take turns here in Axminster to worship together in a different church each day. Like the early Christian church we read the word of God and pray together and share in fellowship afterwards.

"But in the material prepared this year by the Christian Community in Jerusalem, we are challenged to emulate that early group of Christians in more ways even than that; breaking bread together, devoting ourselves in love to each other and sharing burdens so that we may be more visibly united and be able to speak with authority about justice and peace. What a vision for the year ahead! Thank you, Lord!"

At Honiton Methodist Church this week will be marked by a time of worship on Wednesday, January 19th followed by a simple lunch — and members of all churches are warmly welcome. At nearby Gittisham the speaker at the meeting of the Mission Community Council on Wednesday, January 26th at 7.30pm will be Katherine Lyddon Exeter Diocesan Youth Adviser. Other events at this time have been an Epiphany Party at St Michael's Colyford, and an Epiphany Carol Service at Colyton on Sunday last.

More news has come this week from the Exeter Diocese link with the churches in the Middle East. The Rev Andrew Thompson recently Chaplain at Kuwait and now moving to be Chaplain at Abu Dhabi has been made a Member of the Order of the British Empire (MBE) for his promotion of interfaith dialogue between Christians and Muslims in Kuwait. At the same time word comes from Canon Andrew White that worship at St George's Baghdad celebrated the coming of the Wise Men with their gifts. Canon White adds that despite the fleeing of many Christians following recent atrocities, the congregation at St George's has once more begun to bulge at its seams.

At the weekend before last BBC Radio marked the 400th anniversary of the first publication of the King James Bible which has become deeply embedded in the English language. It was not really about religion but more about the language which does not now feature so much in schools. Famous actors and clerics took part and read extracts throughout the day, and by all accounts had a large audience.

We close on a practical note for churches who may be thinking of helping themselves and their communities by making fuller use of their buildings by allowing space for a post office.

Helpful guidance is given in a publication entitled "Guidelines and Best Practice for the Provision of Community Shops in Churches and Chapels".

Grammar pupils collect 600kg produce in foodbank campaign

PUPILS at Colyton Grammar School have collected more than 600kg of food in aid of the Exeter Foodbank.

At the end of 2010 tutor group 10 Ash launched their Foodbank campaign for the second year running and encouraged staff, students and parents to get involved by donating everyday food items.

Exeter Foodbank representative Pete Scott attended the school to receive the food and described the Colyton campaign as a "brilliant team effort".

Action group continues its 'store watch'

A SEATON action group is continuing to monitor the Tesco application for the town.

Tescowatch Seaton is a group of local people who banded together to monitor the Tesco application in the town and report any discrepancies to East Devon District Council (EDDC).

However, the group was close to being dissolved as a prominent member felt it was not being listened to by the district council.

James Semple, former spokesman for Tescowatch Seaton, said: "I do not think we can do anything to stop Tesco. EDDC will not listen to anything against Tesco and no-one else will act on our behalf.

"That being so, I think we should dissolve Tescowatch and take what is coming to us."

Tescowatch Seaton was formed in December 2009 and during a two-day exhibition more than 30 people signed up to join. Volunteers who joined the group were asked to adopt one of the 80-plus planning conditions imposed on Tesco by EDDC and report any discrepancies to the relevant authority.

In an online blog, Mr Semple added: "Tescowatch is futile. We set it up to watch over Tesco and tell EDDC about any transgressions, expecting them to jump to defend the public interest. How naive can you get?"

"EDDC are making things as easy as possible for Tesco. Since no-one will listen to us, there is no point in complaining about anything."

However, Mr Semple has confirmed that Tescowatch will continue but that he will be taking a back seat.

He said: "Whatever my feelings on the matter, a number of Tescowatch stalwarts are keen to continue with the project, and I am happy to support them.

"While I may have lost touch with the movement, the movement will continue with other leaders. I will still do work for Tescowatch — but others will be forming policy and representing Tescowatch to the powers ranged against us.

"2011 will bring many changes to Seaton — here's hoping we can live with them."

Community meet

SEATON Town Council and the Seaton Neighbourhood Beat Team will be holding a joint surgery on Tuesday, January 25th, in Windsor Gardens.

In the event of bad weather, the surgery will be moved to the Community Resource Centre, Fore Street.

A spokesman for Seaton police said: "Members of the community are invited to attend and discuss any concerns you may have. A member of the local neighbourhood beat team and the town council will be available between 9.30am and 11am."

country scene

Written by countryside correspondent

TONY JACKSON

Walk of ages

IN terms of the more recent history of this country we tend to use the invasion of the Romans, some 2,000 years ago, as a cut-off point and the commencement of "civilisation" as we understand it, yet for thousands of years prior to that period this country was inhabited by our ancestors, men and women who lived, worked and existed within those eras we term the Bronze and Iron Ages.

In terms of real time they are but a flick of an eye away from us even though they may seem so remote. Now, there is a chance to explore something of the history and background of those earlier inhabitants through a special walk organised by the Blackdown Hills Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) team and which will be led by archaeologist Hazel Riley.

The walk is intended to discover something of the Iron Age history of the Blackdown Hills and to explore the prehistoric hill fort at Dumpdon Hill, owned by the National Trust, and which was built 2,500 years ago.

The site has been explored and examined over the past 20 years, since the Great Storm of 1990 destroyed many of the beech trees on the hill to expose the ground and make excavations possible. The event will show how these remains and marks of the past can be seen in today's landscape, and especially in winter when the lack of cover makes it easier to see and interpret the surface of the land.

Those attending the walk will learn how hill forts were constructed and discover the ways and manner of Iron Age life in the surrounding hamlets and farms.

The walk takes place this coming Saturday, January 22nd, commencing at 10am. If you'd like to take part book at the AONB office on 01823 680681 or email: blackdownhills@devon.gov.uk.

Now, do you perchance have an interest in marine life and would like to know more and extend your knowledge? Would you care to understand more about Marine Protected Areas and the difference between European and National Marine Sites?

Do you know a blenny from a goby or an edible from a shore crab? Well, Dorset Wildlife Trust is offering the chance to discover more about marine biology and conservation through volunteering at the Fine Foundation Marine Centre, Kimmeridge Bay.

Quite simply, volunteer Marine Wardens are being recruited to assist the DWT team to run the marine centre, welcome visitors, lead public events and promote the seashore, while working with the centre's team. It doesn't matter that you may have no experience in these areas, as you will learn "on the job" through mentoring and by regular training and through practical activities on the shore. There is also a training and events programme for volunteers.

The Kimmeridge Marine Wardens have been looking after and protecting the Purbeck Marine Wildlife Reserve for some seven years through an awareness and education programme on the beach in the summer months, pointing out to visitors the astonishing array of marine life on the shore. So, if you would like to join the team and spend time on this beautiful stretch of Dorset coast, while helping to preserve its marine wildlife, contact Julie Hatcher on 01929 481044 or email kimmeridge@dorsetwildlifetrust.org.uk by January 31st. Volunteer Marine Wardens must be over 18, have their own transport and be able to commit to two days a month.

What a dreary time of the year this is! The days are grey, misty and sodden and the countryside, for the most part, resembles a brown and pallid green patchwork. My garden is a nightmare of damaged plants, as a result of the bitter weather in December, shredded grass and depressed-looking hedges and shrubs. Yet I know that within a few weeks there will be a revival, a resurgence of hope and growth and a total transformation. Hopefully, my pond will display life, newts, frog spawn and water life will once again appear, though at the moment the black water and dead vegetation is hardly encouraging. April is only a few weeks away, the days are drawing out and, once again, the countryside will put on its spring outfit.

7 Reasons Why You Must Make A Will

1. You decide who will receive the benefits from your estate and not the law
2. If you are not married but have a partner your partner will receive nothing unless you make a will
3. If you are divorced, you can decide to leave something to your former partner
4. You can make the best use of allowances to reduce the amount of Inheritance Tax to be paid
5. If you have children, you can nominate who you choose to care for them
6. If you have no surviving relatives, everything could automatically pass to the state
7. You can decide to leave a donation to charity

Arguably everyone over the age of 18 should make a will, but certainly when you have a partner and children become involved, it is absolutely vital.

Please call now to find out more.

MUSIC

● MEZZO soprano Bethia Hourigan is coming back to Uplyme for a concert in Uplyme Church on Saturday, January 22nd, starting at 7.30pm.

Bethia grew up in Uplyme, moving there with her family when she was 11. She went to school in Taunton and from there to the Royal Welsh College of Music and Drama.

She is currently studying for a Masters in Music at Trinity Laban Conservatoire of Music and Dance in London under Teresa Cahill.

Her ambition is to work with leading opera companies, and many will remember the wonderful concert she gave in the church in 2007.

Her repertoire includes classical, opera, folk and musical theatre.

Highlights of her solo experience include singing in Barcelona Cathedral and being selected for the Kathleen Ferrier Competition in Blackburn.

In Uplyme she will be singing a selection of classical and folk songs.

Ashley Marshfield who until recently was at the Royal College of Music will be her accompanist.

Ashley also accompanied her at the 2007 concert and the programme will include an organ recital by Ashley.

There is no admission charge but the church hopes that all can make a very generous donation at the end of the concert.

As with other Uplyme Church concerts, all the proceeds go to the performers after expenses have been met.

LIP-SMACKING SOUNDS

MUSIC

THE band, Joey the Lips will perform its funky soul, blues and disco revue on Saturday, January 29th in a gig organised by Seaton's Voice.

After forming in 1994 the band was soon booked for a spot on tour with American soul legend Edwin Starr, followed by release of their debut album Soul Fiction in 1997.

In 2000 the band performed a live medley on national BBC1 with Atomic Kitten and Martine McCutcheon for Children in Need.

In 2001 Joey the Lips was resident band on Carlton TV's Langford Late TV show — a series of eight chat shows with Ruth Langford. In between, the band performed and recorded a promotional video for the BBC on the set of Noel Edmonds House Party at BBC Television Centre, London, and then finished work on a number of projects including a recording of Midnight Hour with another American soulster, Geno Washington.

The Seaton performance starts at 8pm and tickets are £10 each in advance and £12.50 on the door. Advance tickets are available from the town hall and Animal Botanical guitar magic

ONE of the finest acoustic finger-style and slide guitar players in the world comes to The Brewhouse in Taunton on Thursday January 27th to promote his latest album True Stories.

Singer and songwriter Martin Simpson is the twice winner of the Musician Of The Year BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards whose performances elicit powerful emotions and subtle, understated beauty.

The material for Simpson's latest album True Stories is, for the first time split 50/50 between traditional songs and tunes and Simpson's own original compositions. Performing numbers from this album, the music ranges from solo guitar instrumentals and songs to full band arrangements and features some of the finest musicians around.

Featuring bass icon Danny Thompson, pedal steel player BJ Cole, Radiohead drummer Phil Selway, Bellowhead front man Jon Boden on fiddle, accordion ace Andy Cutting, ex Page and Plant hurdy gurdy man Nigel Eaton, singers Muireann Nic Amloibh and Kellie White and co-producer Andy Seward on bass, True Stories, released 2009, won simpson wide critical acclaim.

Simpson's sound is highly distinctive, led by guitars, banjola and banjo. His influences are eclectic, Northumbrian dance tunes, Anglo Scots ballads, old timey and blues songs, New Orleans jazz and R and B.

His own songs are beautifully written and are most unusual in form, telling true stories of love, loss and home.

Since his televised appearances at the Albert Hall at the first ever Folk Prom, and on Later with Jools Holland, Simpson has virtually become an overnight success, despite his thirty seven year-long career.

His radio appearances with Aled Jones, Mike Harding and Simon Mayo amongst others have garnered extraordinarily good reactions.

His 2007 release, Prodigal Son was nominated for 5 BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards, and won Album of the Year, and Best Original song for the deeply moving Never Any Good.

For more information on Martin Simpson: True Stories visit www.thebrewhouse.net Tickets cost £14 with concessions available and can be booked online by calling the box office on 01823 283244.

OUT & ABOUT

● CONCERTS in the West's sixth season begins in February, featuring The Blanchet Trio on tour.

Organisers promise "a feast of French and German Baroque music" when the trio performs in Lyme Regis, Bridport, Ilminster and Hatherleigh.

The dates are; Thursday, February 10th, 7.15pm, St Michael and St George Catholic Church, Lyme Regis; Friday, February 11th, 11am, Bridport Arts Centre;

Friday, February 11th, 7.30pm, Ilminster Arts Centre and Saturday, February 12th, 7.30pm, Hatherleigh Community Centre.

Further information about all the concerts and the performers during the season are available online at www.concertsinthewest.org.

● COLYTON leisure lunches will be continuing on the fourth Thursday of every month.

The lunches will be held in the Sunday School building at 12.30pm and will cost £5 for a two course cooked meal.

Space is limited to 30 people and anyone who would like to book a place should fill out a booking form that will be available at the back of St Andrew's Church.

The organisers of the leisure lunches say everyone is welcome to attend.

● THE Axe Valley Friends of Force will be holding a coffee morning and table top sale at Colyton Town Hall on Saturday, February 26th.

The event runs from 9.30am until 11.30am. A variety of stalls will be available and a raffle will also be taking place.

Entrance is free and includes a complimentary cup of coffee.

To book a table call 01297 552212. Tables cost £5.

PANTO SEASON

Alternative panto

MEMBERS of All Saints Pantomime Society are busy rehearsing twice a week for their next production, Snow White and the Alternative Seven.

Once again, Jo Ellis has written an original script based around the well-known story in which most of the usual characters are included plus a few unusual ones.

Jane Pollard takes the role of Snow White with Clive Bareham as her father, Lord Poshington-Smythe, who has recently married the wicked Lady Poshington-Smythe, played by Gay Atkinson.

The society has welcomed several new members this year, one of whom is Steve Holt who has taken on the role of Tom the Lumberjack with great enthusiasm.

There are no dwarves in this panto but a motley group of geriatric and loudly protesting hippies who look after Snow White until the somewhat affected Prince Unfortunata (Angela Drake) appears and falls madly in love with her.

Tina Mackenny provides the music for some well known songs and, this year, the show is directed by Angela Drake.

The show will be performed in All Saints Village Hall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 3rd, 4th and 5th at 7.45pm.

Tickets are available from Anthea on 01460-221088 and can also be ordered by emailing barehams@beaconcot.co.uk

Alternatively they can be purchased at All Saints Village Hall between 7.30pm–8.30pm on Mondays and Fridays.

Ticket prices are adults £5 and children £2.50 (Thursday and Friday) with all tickets £5 on Saturday.

There will also be a charity performance on Saturday February 12th at 7.15pm.

Tickets for this show are £10, to include a light supper.

Perfect post-Christmas lift with drama club comedy

AXMINSTER Drama Club says it will provide the perfect post-Christmas lift through its comedy panto, Sleeping Beauty.

To make it suitable for all the family the show is fast, the jokes are inoffensive — and the special effects, costumes and scenery are again beyond what people new to Axminster expect from an amateur production.

The script is again produced for the local audience by Chris Lane, who also directs this year.

Unlike last year's very successful Robin Hood, which was on its third airing for Axminster, Sleeping Beauty is a world premiere and will then go through a re-write to make it suitable for the international audiences that enjoy Chris's scripts (this season scripts have been sent flying off to Nigeria, USA, Ireland, Canada, New Zealand and all over England).

Club chairman Tim Leat says preparations are going well and it looks like being another inventive and colourful panto not to be missed.

Ticket prices have been kept the same as last year at £9 for adults and £6 for children and OAPs.

There is a £2 discount on all adult tickets bought in advance and a family ticket can be purchased for £24 in advance at from Archway Bookshop, Axminster.

The dates of the show are from January 20th to 22nd January with evening performances at 7.30pm plus a matinee at 2.30pm on Saturday January 22nd.

● REHEARSALS for Colyton Theatre Group's production of Sinbadaladdin are progressing well.

Most of the large cast have now been kitted out in costumes and performances will take place in Colyton Town Hall at 7.30pm from Wednesday, January 26th to Saturday, January 29th.

In addition, there will also be a matinee performance at 2.30pm on Saturday, January 29th. Tickets are priced at £6 for adults and £3 for children — available at Colyton Pharmacy, Steve's Print in Seaton, and Archway Bookshop in Axminster.

Everything for the weekend

WHILE it may no longer be fashionable to serve up puff pastry vol-au-vents at a party, equally tragic looking is a roomful of hungry guests nibbling miserably on a bowl of crisps.

According to Lucy Cufflin, author of Lucy's Food, the canape is very often ignored by party hosts, despite being an easy and relatively cheap way of impressing your friends, a brilliant way to avoid the dreaded dinner party and a good way to make sure guests are kept fully sated throughout the night.

Here are her tips for creating "maximum effect" canapes with "minimum effort".

- If you are planning to serve canapes in place of a meal then you need 10-12 per person. If it is pre-dinner then three to four, and if it is a drinks party or shorter period of time, then around eight per person.

- Keep the selection small: remember people like to have seconds of something delicious. If you are planning to serve 12 per person, perhaps limit the choice to 6 or 7 types.

- Make sure you have a selection of meat, fish and vegetarian canapes to serve.

- It's great to have a mixture of hot and cold canapes. Lay them out on a few oven trays, so you can slot them in the oven as you need them. You don't want them all to come out at the same time.

- Remember, canapes are eaten with fingers, so warm ones want to be warm, rather than too hot to handle!

- Nothing looks worse than a canape tray with two to three canapes left, so re-fill once it's two thirds empty so it always looks inviting.

- In between replenishing canapes, give your plates a little wash so they always look freshly made up.

- Pop sprigs of fresh herbs or even flowers on the trays. It's wise to get these garnishes planned in advance, so you can quickly add them to the trays as they leave the kitchen.

- Keep cold canapes covered so they do not dry out and think about where you are going to store them. The fridge can be too cold and may affect texture and taste, so a larder is ideal or another cool part of the house.

- Write yourself a list of what to make when and make sure you give yourself plenty of time. Children, dogs, TV, telephone all get in the way!

- Ask friends or family to help, as making canapes can be a very sociable affair. Get some good music playing, have a drink while you prepare and enjoy!

Steak and horseradish croustades

(25-30 bite-size croustades)

1 part-baked baguette

Olive oil to drizzle

150-200g rump steak

A little vegetable oil

3tbsp horseradish sauce

150ml double cream

Small handful of rocket or other herb, to garnish

Slice the baguette into five mm-thick slices (25-30 slices). Place on a baking sheet (no need to grease) and drizzle over the olive oil. Just a drop on each is fine as the oil will soak through the bread as it cooks. Cook uncovered for six to eight minutes or until the croustades are golden-brown. They need to be slightly crispy, but not dark brown or they will be too hard and taste burnt. Allow to cool then store in a plastic bag or sealed container. These will keep for up to one month in an airtight container in a cupboard, so make them when you have leftover bread and some spare space in the oven. Then you can simply pull them out of the cupboard when you want them - easy!

Rub the steak on both sides with the oil and heat a frying pan until smoking. Cook for one to two minutes on each side. Season with salt and wrap in foil. Leave to cool then chill for at least one hour, or up to 24 hours in the fridge.

Whisk the cream and horseradish sauce together until thick (about one minute). Cut off any fat and slice the beef wafer-thin. Put teaspoonfuls of cream onto the croustades and then one to two slivers of beef piled up. Top with a little leaf or herb sprig.

Lucy's tips: Own-brand horseradish sauce is fine for these croustades, but remember to stay close to the oven while they are cooking to avoid burning them.

■ Lucy's Food by Lucy Cufflin is published in hardback by Hardie Grant, priced £20. Available now.

TUG OF WAR OF GOOD AND EVIL

FILM

The Green Hornet
(12A, 118 mins)

OSCAR-WINNING writer-director Michel Gondry has steadfastly refused to compromise his creativity on the big screen, conjuring some of the most memorable and quirky romantic comedies of recent times (Eternal Sunshine of the Spotless Mind, The Science of Sleep) as well as a surreal tale of video piracy starring Jack Black and Mos Def (Be Kind Rewind).

Now, he helms his most expensive and high profile project to date: an action comedy based on the masked avenger from George W Trendle's popular radio series.

Seth Rogen and Evan Goldberg, who penned Superbad and Pineapple Express, co-write the screenplay of this big-budget film version, which centres on James Reid (Tom Wilkinson), the most prominent and respected media magnate in Los Angeles.

When the tycoon dies in mysterious circumstances, his wastrel son Britt (Seth Rogen) reluctantly abandons the city's hedonistic party scene to taken control of the media empire which includes The Daily Sentinel.

He forges an unlikely friendship with his father's driver, Kato (Jay Chou), and together they decide to fight crime on the city streets by posing as criminals.

In his guise as The Green Hornet, Britt strikes fear into the heart of the underworld controlled by the nefarious Benjamin Chudnofsky (Christoph Waltz), aided in no small part by Kato's seemingly indestructible car, The Black Beauty, which is outfitted with all of the latest gizmos and firepower.

Sexy new secretary Lenore Case (Cameron Diaz) proves a valuable ally in the battle against injustice but Britt underestimates the size of the task that lies ahead and the determination of Chudnofsky, who will stop at nothing to swat The Green Hornet and seize back control of Los Angeles.

The titanic tug of war between good and evil unfolds in eye-popping 3D at most cinemas, co-starring Edward James Olmos and Edward Furlong.

Newspaper comic strip film shown

BEER Film Society will be showing the popular Tamara Drew, set in and around west Dorset, at Steamers restaurant on Monday January 24th (doors open 7pm, film starts 7.30pm).

Starring Gemma Arterton and directed by Stephan Frears the film is a comedy based on the newspaper comic strip of the same name (which was then republished as a graphic novel) written by Posy Simmonds.

The comic strip, which serves as source material, was a modern reworking of Thomas Hardy's nineteenth century novel Far from the Madding Crowd.

The film is open to members and non-members alike.

LARGE DESIGNER HOUSE TO RENT IN ACCESSIBLE RURAL LOCATION

Symonds and Sampson in Axminster are proud to once again offer Orchardhayes onto the rental market. Orchardhayes is in the heart of the East Devon countryside and yet is conveniently situated within easy driving distance of Taunton, Honiton and Axminster.

Set within a small community of 4 houses, the house has mainly oak floors throughout, 6 double bedrooms, a further bedroom or study downstairs, numerous bathrooms, 2 downstairs cloakrooms, a large living room with an open fire, dining room, conservatory, a luxury fitted kitchen with an AGA and a utility room. The conservatory leads onto a large raised stone patio overlooking the garden, which is laid mostly to lawn, with a pond to the front of the house. The heating is oil fired central heating, the drainage is private, there is a double open fronted garage with storage above and plenty of off road parking.

Orchardhayes is offered unfurnished and is available now at a rental of £1995 per calendar month, with well behaved pets and children welcome. For further details on this property and others please visit our website www.symondsandsampson.co.uk or call our office on 01297 32879

The Service Everyone Is Talking About ...

"Tim Bennett acted in a most professional manner. The property was sold very quickly".

Mr & Mrs C.

"Extremely helpful & supportive. Plenty of feedback on progress of purchase etc".

Mr P.

"Very impressed with the agent, very helpful and reassuring. In particular I have to mention Linda and Tim who were professional, prompt with their actions and answers, and went out of their way for the buying process to go as smooth as possible. When searching for a property they stood out more than any other agent, in one word excellent!"

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE

1. Orders for Advertisements are accepted subject to the provisions of the British Code of Advertising Practice and any statutes in force at the time of publication.
2. The Publisher shall not be liable for any loss or damage occasioned by any total or partial failure, however caused, of distribution of any newspaper or edition in which any advertisement is scheduled to appear.
3. In the event of an error, misprint or omission in the printing of the advertisement the Publisher will either re-insert the advertisement or relevant part of the advertisement as the case may be or make a reasonable refund or adjustment to the cost. No re-insertion, refund or adjustment will be made where an error, misprint or omission does not materially detract from the advertisement. In no circumstances shall the total liability of the Publisher for any error, misprint or omission exceed the amount of a full refund of any price paid to the publisher for the particular advertisement in connection with which liability arose or the cost of a further corrective advertisement of a type and standard reasonably comparable to that with which liability arose.
4. The right is reserved to refuse to accept or to continue the insertion of any advertisement, even though accepted and paid for, at the discretion of the Advertisement Manager.
5. The Publisher reserves the right in exceptional circumstances and at the Publisher's discretion to release names and addresses of advertisers to appropriate authorities, including but not limited to, Police, Trading Standards and Tax officials.
6. No responsibility is accepted for damage to or loss of artwork, photographs or other original material.
7. The Publisher will endeavour to set copy as ordered but the right is reserved to alter advertisements to conform with the Publisher's standards.
8. Whilst every attempt will be made to forward replies to box numbers no liability can be accepted in respect of any loss or damage alleged to arise through delay in forwarding such replies, however caused. Readers are advised not to enclose original documents or anything of value with replies to box number advertisements.

9. The classification under which advertisements appear is entirely at the discretion of the Publisher.
10. It is the responsibility of the advertiser to ensure that the first insertion of a series of advertisements is correct. The Publisher does not accept responsibility for any advertisement published and printed incorrectly after the initial insertion unless corrected by the advertiser.
11. Tear sheets will be provided, on request, as proof of insertion. Full voucher copies will not normally be sent.
12. Minimum advertisement size is 3cm x 1 column.
13. All advertising copy to be received by 12 noon on Fridays with the exception of Jobs which can be accepted up to 11am on Mondays.
14. Cancellation: No advertisement shall be cancelled after the above deadlines. Cancellations must be confirmed in writing.
15. In the event that copy instructions are not received by the published deadline the Publisher reserves the right to repeat copy last used and charge for the space as booked.
16. Payment of monthly accounts is due 30 days from the date of invoice. The Publisher reserves the right to charge interest at 3% per month per annum compound above bank base rate from the due date of payment.
17. The placing of an order for the insertion of an advertisement shall amount to acceptance of the above conditions. Any conditions stipulated by an agency or an advertiser shall be void in so far as they are in conflict with them.

THE CHOSEN ONES, AGAIN

By ANDERS LARSSON

anders@tindlenews.co.uk

A YOUNG Axminster event rider, who shot to fame last year, has been re-selected for a crucial equestrian development programme.

Eighteen-year-old Tim Rogers was already on the British Equestrian Federation World Class Development Programme - and he is delighted to have been included on the new list for 2011-2013.

Tim enjoyed a very successful 2010, which included taking a bronze medal at the Junior Eventing European Championships in Germany. The UK Sport-funded development programme helps selected and talented riders to maximise their potential in various ways.

Tim said: "I'm delighted to have been re-selected for the world class development Programme, it's brilliant news."

"Having access to the wide range of support that the programme provides, from dieticians to training sessions, has proved invaluable so far."

"I'm sure that their continued support will be a great help as I look to build upon past successes. "I hope to be in contention for the Young Riders' Championships this year and I'm sure the support of the programme will help me to achieve this."

British Equestrian performance director Will Connell added: "The selection process was slightly changed this time and carried on over a longer period of time allowing applicants to be viewed in competition."

"The standard of rider applying was higher than ever and the selectors had a difficult job; but, that's excellent news for us as a nation as it reflects the wealth of talent that we are fortunate to have."

HONITON GOLF CLUB

Sun Am Winter League

ANOTHER round of Sun Am matches and the leagues are all looking pretty tight.

There were no humiliations to report this week, just the usual round of friendly banter following a most enjoyable morning's sport. And on this subject I would like to make special mention of Jason Gosling who has battled through most rounds playing as a singleton. When he applies himself he can be a very good golfer indeed and although he was giving away buckets full of shots he fought to the very last, never bowing to the inevitable. It really was a delight to watch his second shot to the par four 16th that landed and stopped on the temporary green just a foot from the pin.

Senior Section

The seniors had a surprise this week. The usual early morning telephone call to the club came back with the message "the course is open for play".

Instead of the expected return to a warm bed it was a case of stumbling in the dark to find the kit.

The competition was a three ball better ball with two scores to count and after a long lay off from the adverse weather it might have been expected that scores would suffer. Not the case as, despite a recent handicap cut, Seniors' Captain Bill Nicholls partnered by John Gillingham and Bob Milton teed off first and recorded the highest score with 80 points.

Close behind was the trio of Peter Shepherd, Norman Ede and John Foster with 78, followed closely by Peter Morgan, John Ayland and Robin Mitchell 77 and Stan Squire, Keith Thomas and David Beer on 76. With some temporary greens "twos" may have been in short supply but seven players showed that they had not lost their touch with the putter.

AXE CLIFF GOLF CLUB

Ladies' Section

THIS Wednesday before the rain arrived the Ladies played a nine hole Foursomes competition.

The winners after count back from Hazel Williamson and Janet Dack were Lady Captain Pat Ayshford and Vice Captain Barbara Cummings.

Main Club

The main club competed this Sunday for round five of the Winter League. The winners with 45 points were Martin Cox and Paul Curtin.

Second with 43 points were Pete Northcott and Jim Matthews and third with 42 points were Pete Keats and Brian Kelland.

LYME REGIS GOLF CLUB

NEW GENERATION

WHILE the extreme wintry conditions outside were picturesque albeit prohibitive for golf, members of Lyme Regis Golf Club assembled to recall and celebrate triumphs and success over the previous 12 months.

On display was an impressive array of trophies ready to be awarded by the captains of their respective sections of the club.

Amongst the winners and runners-up were some familiar names but it was also pleasing to see some new names appearing on the list of winners.

It was also good to see some of the younger members of the club emulating their parents in achieving success in the junior division competitions.

With the recent harsh weather seemingly temporarily abated, the club staged its first medal event of 2011.

Although the day was relatively warm for the time of year with only a gentle breeze blowing and with greens running true and quick for the time of year, the fairways were not giving much run due to the recent wet weather.

However, several good cards were submitted. Most notably Rob Coombe (14) carded an excellent Gross 81 (net 67) to win Division One. Division Two was won by club treasurer Jerry Linnert (20) with a gross 91 (net 71).

◆ WINNERS of the junior section competitions together with 2010 club captain Jerry Donlon

The Monday following the successful completion of the medal event saw a significant change in the weather and course conditions.

With a strong southerly wind blowing, following overnight rain, buggies were not allowed on the course and the field was consequently much reduced.

However, some of the 47 stalwarts who did venture out for Stableford competition recorded some highly respectable scores in the conditions. In Division One Ted Baker (15) not only scored a highly commendable 37 points but recorded the only "two" of the day.

In second place was the ever consistent Brian Ridley (18) with 34 points with Mike Betteridge (18) achieving third on countback with 33 points.

Division Two was won by Peter Williams (23) with 31 points.

AXE VALLEY RUNNERS

New race for local runners

AXE Valley Runners' (AVR) Any Which Way You Can nine and 15-mile runs saw participants finding six checkpoints, answering numeric questions, remembering the answers and adding up the numbers at the end.

This was a new AVR event, staged on Sunday, January 16th and designed as a bit of Grizzly Run training.

Checkpoints were at Jobbleshayes Woods, Blackbury Camp, Berry Barton Farm, Under Hooken path plus two places in Seaton.

Slower runners started earlier in an attempt to get everyone finishing nearly together, ready to devour the pasties, cakes and tea at the end.

Fortunately, the weather was kind and a superb morning's run was had by all.

John Day and Alex Todd were the 15-mile winners, with Wayne Tooze and Matthew Tyne the shorter route winners.

But the true winner was Seaton Scout Group which, despite a very low entry fee of £3, ended up making nearly £200 (including donations).

For some of the runners it was the first time running these distances, made even tougher by the boggy conditions in the many woods - but they all completed the course and really do deserve hearty congratulations.

AVR's Dave Mutter said: "Special mention to Complete Meats and Ganesha Wholefoods of Axminster for sponsoring those delicious oggies; the kitchen team led by Gill Day for being so ebullient and efficient; the Woodward clan for providing tea and coffee and anyone else who helped make a grey Sunday really special. Bring on the Grizzly!"

The first handicap race in the 2011 series was won by Beth Sibley in 35:30, a new personal best by nearly a minute.

The first two finishers hadn't done enough qualifying runs, but produced scarily fast times.

Robbie Holt ran in 21:42 and Sam Anning in 22:39.

Rhea Shave was second of the qualified runners in 32:28.

Tim Sibley was third in 26:12; Kelly Dack fourth in 30:26 and Eleanor Wood fifth with 25:30.

Max Bowskill won the shorter junior handicap in 17:57; with Liam McLean second in 17:08; James Knapp third in 16:15; Emily Elliott fourth, in 14:47 and Josh Coates fifth in 14:43.

The Grizzly is fast approaching — taking place on Sunday, March 13th.

The day before there will be a Griz Fest at Cliff Field Gardens, including a 2k family fun run and a 4k junior grizzly race sponsored by Seaton's

Toy Box and Sweet Heaven, with many shops donating spot prizes for the runners.

It's a festival with a village fete theme, all under canvas, with bouncy castles, face painters and all Seaton community groups are invited to have a stall.

Shops or cafes are welcome to get involved in any of the competitions to be run during the festival.

There will be a best decorated shop window with a Grizzly theme competition, and a treasure hunt.

Cafes, restaurants, bakers and butchers can also take part in the best Grizzly dish competition.

If you would like to donate a spot prize for the junior races or get involved with any of the competitions, please let Kay d'Albertanson know on 01297 625437 or 07901 906 988.

SEATON AND DISTRICT CRIB LEAGUE

THE second half of the league started again on Tuesday, January 11th.

The results were:
Golden Hind 2, Royal Clarence 7
P J's Club 3, Kings Arms 6
Vaults Bar 6, Eyre Court 3

In the Captain's Cup the Golden Hind, Kings Arms and Vaults Bar all won.

The League table now stands at:

	P	W	F	AC/C
Golden Hind	8	5	39	33 7
Vaults Bar	8	5	35	37 4
Eyre Court	8	5	34	38 4
Royal Clarence	7	4	37	26 2
P J's Club	8	4	36	36 2
Kings Arms	8	3	37	35 4
Kingfisher	7	1	25	38 4

The Stan Berry Cup, which was postponed due to the inclement weather, was played in the new year and in a close fought match Golden Hind beat Eyre Court by one point.

HONITON RUGBY CLUB — JUNIORS

AFTER a six-week break thanks to the adverse weather and Christmas the Honiton Rugby Club under 7s and 8s finally returned to action in a home game against near neighbours Sidmouth.

In the first match the under 8s lost narrowly to a far more experienced Sidmouth team who edged a real thriller eight tries to six thanks to their superior passing game.

However, Honiton should be proud of their defensive effort and for coming back strongly from four scores down with four tries from man of the match Sam Steel and one a piece from Joe Evens and captain Kade Balesford.

The under 7s also impressed in another close game in which they lost seven tries to six in a game that could have gone either way.

After a slow start Honiton improved with captain Osian Owen tagging tirelessly to thwart some early Sidmouth pressure before Honiton found their feet in attack in an end to end game.

Honiton try scorers were Joe Evens who grabbed three, while Brodi Drinkwater scored his first for the club along with Josh Giles who was also making his debut and man of the match Luke Matthews.

JUNIOR RUGBY

Honiton U10s 15
Sidmouth U10s 15

GAME of the season so far as both teams played out a hard fought draw.

Tough tackling by both sides limited the try scoring to three each with Honiton going over in the last two minutes to tie the game.

A special mention for Steven Thompson for his efforts in the tight and man of the match Luke Bralsford for scoring all three tries. Honitons coaches are extremely pleased with the whole team effort.

Honiton U11s 0
Sidmouth U11s 0

Even though there was no score in this game it did not take away from the fact there was some great rugby played throughout the game.

Honiton tackled exceptionally well. Sidmouth had a couple of opportunities to break away but Honiton's defence were up to the task in hand and worked hard. Both teams tackled hard and Honiton were very unlucky not to score as they spent a lot of time in the Sidmouth half.

Man of the match went to the whole team for a fantastic team performance.

DEVON & EXETER LEAGUE ROUND-UP

SEATON Town's magnificent run of 10 successive Premier victories came to a juddering end at Heavitree Social United where they were beaten 3-1.

The Premier leaders did get their noses in front at Wingfield Park through Dan Norman, but Heavitree later equalised from Wayne King and after that were the dominant side. Ben Henderson and Ryan Crocker goals took the game away from Seaton whose manager Josh Stunnell missed the match as he was attending the birth of his new baby.

Second from top East Budleigh were also held to a draw 0-0 by bottom of the table Honiton Town who really impressed the home side.

Exeter University returned to winning ways beating Feniton 3-0.

Kevin Mills scored twice for Upworn Athletic in their 4-2 win at home to Colyton.

The tie between Farway United of the Perry Street League and Exmouth Town Reserves was again washed out and will be restaged for this coming Saturday.

OFFWELL FC

OFFWELL 2nds secured a 4-1 win away to Langdon.

In blustery conditions it only took two minutes for Offwell to open the score sheet when Karl Allen capitalised on a defensive error. It was 1-0 at half time, but with the wind in their favour the second half, about 15 mins in Ben Fullick slotted home their second goal.

Langdon replied 10 mins later when awarded a free kick, to make it 2-1.

It took until about 10 mins from full time for Liam Spiller to find his scoring boots, and score two goals in quick succession, a good all round performance in the conditions and man of the match was awarded to Ben Fullick who never stopped working the whole game.

PERRY STREET LEAGUE ROUND-UP AND CUP MATCH NEWS

VICTORY ENDS A RUN OF DEFEATS

By KEVIN FAHEY

sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

CHARMOUTH'S rousing 3-2 victory over Norton Athletic finally brought to an end one of the longest win-less runs in the Perry Street League.

Goals from Dan Rumsby, Ali Harvey and Danny Rendell not only secured the points but also earned the club their first league win since May 5th 2009.

Since then Charmouth have gone a miserable 32 league games without a win, including the whole of last season when they were relegated from the Premier Division.

"This win has been a long time coming and all I can say is that I am very proud of the players," said assistant player manager Andy Cottershall.

"I was forced to make a few changes for the match and had to bring in a couple of 16 and 17-year-olds who were magnificent. It was nice to see the players smiling again and hopefully this result can kick-start our season."

Remarkably Cottershall was taking charge of his first game as manager Nicky Pomeroyd is away on holiday.

In stark contrast to Charmouth Division One leaders Winham lost their unbeaten record when they slipped to a surprise 1-0 defeat at Netherbury. John Kingston scored the decisive goal early in the game and despite intensive pressure the home side held on for a victory that closes the gap on their visitors.

Another side enjoying their first win of the season was West and Middle Chinnock, who beat Ilminster Town reserves 4-1 in the Premier Division.

"I think we have been everyone's favourites to go down after losing some key players but I think we are going to be okay," said manager Nick Eckland.

"We have had a difficult start but the team is getting better and this first win will be crucial."

Charlie Rutter gave Ilminster the lead but Ollie Hutchings equalised and in the second half further strikes from skipper Damian Hart, Aaron Langdon and man-of-the-match Russell Lock clinched the points to lift Chinnock off the bottom.

At the other end of the table goals from Steve Batey, Julian Simier and Joel Gosling earned reigning champions Lyme Regis a 3-2 win against Merriott Rovers.

"They were above us in the league so I'm really pleased with the result," said manager Robin Townsend. "We are getting there."

One of the biggest wins of the day came in Division Three from Lyme Regis Bantams with a 7-2 thrashing of Farway Reserves. Teenager Jack Durrant was the star with a hat-trick with two from Ryan Fifer and further goals from Gerard Hitchcock and Derek Walkey.

In Division Two goal-hungry Dowlish and Donyatt closed the gap on leaders Beamminster Reserves with a 5-0 win over Forton Rangers, taking their tally to 15 goals in three games.

Matt Vinayl bagged two with Darren Dabnet, John Bartlett and Tom Evans completing the scoring.

DEVON & EXETER LEAGUE — COLYTON TOWN FC

A sixth defeat of the season

Devon & Exeter League Division 2
Upworn Athletic 4
Colyton 2

COLYTON crashed to their sixth defeat of the season after conceding two late second half goals via a potent Upworn Athletic strike force.

It was a disappointing end to the afternoon against an Upworn side that began the game three points and two places above Colyton.

It was not all doom and gloom though as Colyton created enough clear goal scoring opportunities to have won half a dozen matches. The woefully poor finishing is a major concern, which was not aided by the fact that regular centre forward, Richard Tratt had to play in the heart of the defence due to various absences.

In fact, Tratt had an excellent afternoon and was the pick of the bunch of the Coly players on display.

Coly completely ripped open the Upworn defence within the opening five minutes. The first chance fell to Callum Somers who raced clear and with only the keeper to beat, his weak shot sailed harmlessly wide of the target.

Then it was strike partner Jason Potters turn, who found himself in the same position, a combination of poor decision making and poor finishing saw the home keeper beat out three attempted shots at close range before the ball finally pushing the ball out for a corner.

A couple of over hit wasteful corners from Colyton let Upworn off the hook but the chances still kept coming. Somers was left unmarked about ten yards from goal, but his weak shot was easily dealt with by the home keeper.

On 16 minutes Upworn put their first construction move together and it resulted in the opening goal, a great delivery into the area; a mix up in the defence saw the ball stabbed home for Upworn's first goal.

The goal galvanised Upworn and Coly started to struggle in all areas. Players were diving in all over the pitch, failing to press and Upworn really took a firm grip on the game.

Against the run of play Coly drew level on 36 minutes, Somers again ran clear, this time his run into the area was unfairly ended by the keeper and Mike Cullum made no mistake, blasting home the spot kick for the equaliser.

The joy was short-lived as four minutes later Upworn regained the lead. Colyton conceded a needless free kick and this combined with poor defending down our left flank presented the Upworn wide player the opportunity to slide the ball across the face of goal where his team mate was on hand to guide the ball home at the far post.

A constructive half time talk saw Coly start the second period, against the elements, in confident fashion. Coly were showing more determination and bite in the tackle.

Jason Potter worked himself a good chance early into the half, turning well on the half way line he stroled clear of the chasing pack, but he disappointingly smashed his shot the wrong side of the upright.

On 59 minutes the teams were all square. A free kick from Gary May found Cullum who flicked out a boot to steer the ball past the home keeper.

The game ebbed and flowed with both side creating chances but a draw looked the outcome. With six minutes remaining very naive defending from Colyton resulted in Tratt being left one on one at the back, his desperate last ditch tackle was poorly timed and a penalty was rightly awarded to Upworn.

Reid had no chance to stop the well struck penalty. With time running out Coly pushed four upfront, but it was not avail as Upworn exploited the gaps at the back and on 88 minutes they settled the game with a fourth goal.

It was a bad result for Colyton, but the team need to get their heads up and go to Westex next Saturday and try to win that one.

Better news from the reserves after another excellent team performance saw them record their seventh win of the season after beating Lympstone 2-0. Duane Gay had a great game between the sticks and the goal scorers were Dylan Hawkins and Ed Busby.

JAMES Bennett has revealed that his decision to step down as manager of Axminster had nothing to do with the team's disappointing form this season.

Bennett, who has been replaced by Nick Ogden, quit last week with the team anchored at the foot of the table with only three points from 14 games but said the decision had been taken for personal reasons and he wasn't put under any pressure from the club.

"The decision had nothing to do with the team, players or results," said Bennett. "I twisted my knee badly before Christmas and that has since been diagnosed as cruciate ligaments damage."

"I'm looking at an operation towards the end of next month or early March and I need to get my fitness up before the operation. I need to concentrate on my own health for the moment so it was my decision to step down."

Ogden, the former manager of Devon and Exeter League side Offwell, took charge against Galmpton Utd on Saturday but had little time to make an impact as they slipped to a 4-0 defeat.

"We wanted to take the game to them from the start and set the team up in an attacking formation but errors are costing us dearly and it is up to Kevin [Turner, assistant manager] and myself to help the players cut them out," said Ogden.

"We had spells during the game where we played some neat stuff but we couldn't sustain it. The players deserve a lot of credit for never giving up and with that attitude, hard work, and some new additions I'm sure they will start picking up results sooner rather later."

THE early red card for Otters goalkeeper Tony Ali provide decisive as Dane Bunney's side never recovered.

Ali was sent off after just 15 minutes when he upended Alphington striker Peter Drake as he raced through on goal.

Ali, who was a former player at Alphington, was immediately shown the red card and to make matters worse Matt Wonnacott scored from the spot.

Three minutes before half-time Wonnacott then added a second, also from the spot after a foul by Darryl Johnson on Gary Hayes and the third came from Tim Cridland in the second half.

DEVON & EXETER LEAGUE — AXMOUTH UNITED FC

AXMOUTH got back to winning ways with a sixth away win of the season, this time at Silvertown. On a difficult pitch and poor conditions they secured all three points with a workmanlike performance against a hard working side.

The home team started brightly and looked to make the most of home advantage and for the first five minutes Axmouth looked a bit slow to get going. However, soon after the visitors got into their stride and had more possession without creating too many chances until after 22 minutes a good passing move saw Asa Sandman play a through ball for Dan Reynolds to chase down when the home defenders thought it was going out, he got in a good first time ball and Charlie Clarke showed his strikers instincts and just beat the keeper to slot the ball home and open the scoring.

The rest of the half was fairly evenly contested with the pitch dictating that good football wasn't going to be too much on display. Silvertown with their home knowledge looked to play the long ball as the main tactic but the Axmouth back four of Sweeney, Sweetland, Challis and Dack managed to deal with it apart from one opportunity on 29 minutes when their striker managed to get clear and race onto a long ball and have a one-on-one with keeper Andrew Smart but he stood tall and pulled off a fantastic save to keep them one up.

That looked like being the half time score until a free kick in the last minute some 25 or more yards out was fired home by Joe Berry who seems to excel in scoring spectacular goals, to make it 2-0 to the away side.

The second half started much the same with Ax on top and now creating more chances and in the 57th minute another set piece saw Dan Reynolds get on the end of a fine delivery from Jamie

Hughes to head home a third and a comfortable win seemed secure.

The home side battled on and just three minutes later the long ball tactic worked as their winger just beat advancing Smart to touch it past him and finish well, for a moment it looked like Silvertown might make a fight of it but just three minutes later Clarke was felled in the box and up stepped Hughes to make it 4-1 from the penalty spot.

With 27 minutes to go Axmouth made some changes and introduced new signing Tiago Braga to make his debut and help stifle any comeback with Jon Taylor also coming on.

Axmouth saw the game out and remain on target to challenge for honours.

A good display from all involved without playing anywhere near their best and notable performances from many but Challis just gets the man of the match vote for a dominant aerial display and some perfectly timed last ditch tackles.

GOALKEEPER HOSPITALISED

By KEVIN FAHEY
sport.pulmans@tindlenews.co.uk

STEVE O'Brien is back recovering at his Axminster home this week after an horrific injury saw him being rushed to hospital by the Devon Air Ambulance Trust service.

The 24-year-old Millwey Rise goalkeeper was knocked unconscious following a clash of heads during the second half of the Perry Street League Division One game at home to Crewkerne Town.

When medical staff arrived they quickly decided that it was essential to get O'Brien to hospital as soon as possible so the air ambulance service was called, initially to take him to the Royal Devon and Exeter and then later transfer him to the specialist neurological unit at Plymouth's Derriford Hospital.

"They put me into a coma for nine hours and when I woke up in the helicopter going down to Plymouth and started fighting they put me under again," said O'Brien.

"I had some scans which luckily didn't show any damage but I have fractured my skull at the back of my head and I will be out of action for one or two months. Luckily they have allowed me back home and I don't feel too bad. I'd play again next week if they let me!"

The incident happened during a second half corner when Millwey were leading 3-1.

"I don't know what happened to be honest and all I can remember is looking at the corner flag," added O'Brien.

"Apparently one of their players came in to head the ball and caught me on the back of the head. I was wiped out and just hit the deck and started fitting. One of our lads put me in the recovery position and then they called the ambulance. I don't remember a thing."

Millwey Rise manager Shane Featherstone said the game was held up for almost an hour while the helicopter arrived and staff assessed the situation.

"It was very upsetting but there was no malice at all in the challenge, it was just one of those things that happen in football," said Featherstone.

"Steve is a really nice lad and everyone at the club wishes him a speedy recovery."
